Miss Hilda May Cooper, for the past year or more a Red Cross nurse with the 78th division in France, is at her home on Elmwood street, having arrived last evening.
Charles Bianchi, son of Mrs. Mary Bianchi of Wellington street, started today on a trip to Culver, Ind., there to attend the summer military school at the Culver institution.
Mr. and Mrs. James Berry of Jeffersonville, who were among the gathering at the Goddard commencement exercises yesterday, returned yesterday afternoon to their home.
Miss Evelyn Bugbee is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Bugbee. Miss Bugbee is pursuing a course of training for nurses at the Massachusetts General hospital, Boston.
Miss Elsa Wallstrom, a student at the Bridgewater, Mass., Normal school, is spending her summer vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wallstrom of Essex street.

James Phelps, a former Goddard student, has been visiting in Barre this week. Mr. Phelps comes from Concord, Mass., where he has been engaged as truck gardener on a large farm.

Miss Hazel Lyon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lyon of 27 Highland avenue, having just finished teaching for the year at Brattleboro high school as a science teacher, arrived home last evening.

Valuable concessions for the sale of refreshments, etc., at the south and park July 4 are for sale. Applicants should communicate at once with H. A. Phelps, John C. Booth or E. A. Drown. Stalls will be provided by the committee.
Robert Noble of Bethel, a teacher of history and commercial subjects at Goddard seminary until a few months ago, had the pleasure of meeting a large number of boys formerly connected with school athletics at the seminary yesterday.

Among the Goddard visitors for the commencement exercises were Van Persons of North Montpelier, a star track runner in the long distance run; Harry Mears and Ralph Mears of Marshfield, and Paul Stevens of St. Johnsbury, a star guard for Goddard's football team in '14 and '15.
Professor Frank Woodruff of Bowdoin college, Brunswick, Me., came yesterday to the home of his son, Dr. J. H. Woodruff of 13 East street. He expects to be joined by his wife to-day and they, together with Mrs. J. H. Woodruff and children, leave early next week for Greenboro pond to camp for several weeks.

The committee in charge of traffic for the July 4 celebration is preparing for the enormous number of visitors sure to arrive on that day. Every available lot that might be used is being sought and the committee expects to park approximately 2,500 cars. None can be left on the streets where the parade is to travel, though side streets may be used to some extent for this purpose.

Miss Elena Barberi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luigi Barberi of 9 Brook street, arrived from Boston yesterday with her parents, who made the trip there to witness the graduation exercises at the New England Conservatory of Music. Miss Barberi, a young lady 17 years of age, has graduated from that institution as an honor student and credited as being the youngest person to graduate in the history of the school. She was, previous to her entrance to the Boston school, a pupil of Peter Landi for two years. She expects to remain in Barre for an indefinite time.

George C. Stewart of Warren street, lately returned from serving two years with the Canadian forces in France, was tendered an agreeable welcome home party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison of Laurel street last evening when some 40 of his friends gathered to make merry the occasion. Mr. Stewart was invited under the pretense that the affair would be similar to former musical evenings, but this thought was soon dispelled when one after another arrived. The evening was enjoyably spent, music, games and dancing furnishing splendid diversions for every guest. The surprise was even greater for Mr. Stewart when Miss Ruth Milne, a well-known words presented the principal in the party a signet ring of handsome design. Mr. Stewart responded. During the evening delicious refreshments of ice cream, cake, wafers and candy were served.

RED CROSS NOTES

Of the 14 Red Cross chapters in Vermont, only 10 have reported to division headquarters as requested, or 71 per cent. It is the membership report which is wanted, and this should be sent to the New England division, bureau of accounts, 755 Boylston street, Boston, Mass.

The appeal for the making of layettes is still great throughout New England, more than half of the 12,000 quota still being uncalled for. This quota should be turned in by Sept. 1, and just to show how simple is the work and that it can easily be taken away for vacation work, the list is here given of articles in each layette, the material being provided, all out by Red Cross headquarters: Two blanked, two flannel shirts, two cotton shirts, two knitted shirts, three binders, 22 inches of tape, one jacket, one flannel-ette hood, two pairs of booties, two dresses, six diapers, one knitted hood furnished by chapters, a sundry bag of muslin containing one can of talcum powder, one cake of soap, one thimble, one spool No. 60 white thread, six needles in piece.

of flannel, one piece of old linen and one wash cloth, 18 safety pins, six each of large, medium and small, to be used in doing up layette. The muslin bag, old linen and wash cloth furnished by chapters.

The layettes are simple, and easy to make. Mrs. R. M. Saltonstall, assistant director of the bureau of chapter production, says that a layette can readily be completed in a week as "fancy work." Think of what a Red Cross layette means to a mother who has nothing in which to wrap her new-born baby but rags!

All the chapters in Washington county together ordered only 50 of these layettes, and 35 of these the women of Barre and the towns allied with her in Red Cross work signified their willingness to make. There must be others in the county who are able and have the time to make one of these layettes, and it does not seem possible that love of leisure or apathy would permit the evasion of such a positive chance to assist.

In this connection it may be of interest to know that the Bennington county branch has ordered 1,000 of these layettes, that the Bennington branch took 200 to make, the Catholic Women's service 100, and the Old Bennington branch 100.

And there is still an opportunity for Barre (and the whole of Washington county, for that matter) to wake up and do more along this line. Get in touch with the one in charge of the sewing for your branch. Tell her you will take one layette and will finish it before Sept. 1. She will send in the order to headquarters.

Conscription Not Favored.

Such incidents as these might well be mere straw, if there were not so many of them. Thus the San Francisco Call reports that the sentiment of the 77th division, in which there were many western men, was largely opposed to universal military service and to parading; they wanted to get through with the whole thing. The Call is convinced, as a result of its observations of the returned soldiers, that "we shall not, and cannot, have universal military discipline" until America is radically changed. Indeed, so great is the reaction from universal military service that the national security league is really in despair about it. In a very frank letter to the New York Tribune its publicity director reports that in all high school and college debates the proponents of universal military service were "defeated at the ratio of practically two to one." He adds: "The league considers the results in those debates and the comments thereon most illuminating as an exposition of an enormous sentiment against universal military training which will have to be overcome." To the Tribune he makes a touching appeal: "We trust that you will keep up the fight," but the stout-hearted editor answers in the headline, "Let the league do it."—From The Nation.
